

Star Cactus

Haworthia retusa

- I'm a cute succulent with thick, pointed leaves, and I grow small white flowers in late spring and early summer.
- I'm slow-growing and stay pretty small - usually just a few inches tall - so I'm perfect for little containers or as part of a succulent arrangement.
- I don't need much water in the wintertime, and I like bright, indirect sun year-round, as I can sunburn in direct sunlight.
